Mrs. Marie Bennett Testifies in Murder Trial That Defendant Said he Had One More "Job"

AN INCIDENT AT HER HOME

State Witness Describes How Cloud Handed Piece of Cloth and Tied String to Each End

BULLETIN.

The murder trial will come to an end shortly before noon Thursday. The state finished with their evidence at 3:30 this afternoon, and the defense offered no evidence, ending the case unexpectedly. Each side was given two hours for arguments, or 4 hours for all. Half of this time was to be taken up late today, leaving the remaining two hours for argument in the morning.

The state did not use all witnesses summoned for trial.

The state today delved into facts that surrounded the shooting of Luther C. Sharp on December 8, and for which Cecil Cloud is on trial on the charge of first degree murder in the circuit court, with prosecution today attempting to fasten the guilt on the defendant with the circumstantial evidence that was being uncovered.

Mrs. Marie Bennett, age 23, wife of Charley Bennett, was among the principal witnesses for the state who outlined to the jury several possible clues that tended to aid in the circumstantial background that was being laid by the state.

Her husband also was a witness for the state, and corroborated her testimony to a great extent. Each has been held in jail upon default of bond and as important witnesses for the state.

The case opened this morning with Mrs. Nellie Taylor, wife of Chester Taylor, being the first witness. She described the location and situation of her home, which she said was in West First street, and contained three rooms, used by her husband and herself, and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett.

She told about Cloud being a frequent visitor at the house. She also told about a 45 calibre gun that her husband had in a drawer in their room, and which disappeared before the shooting and was returned after the shooting. She said she turned the gun over to Sheriff Hunt February 28.

Donald Newman was the next witness and said that he knew Cloud. He recalled seeing him at First and Morgan streets between 7:30 and eight o'clock on the night of the fatal shooting. He described how he was dressed, with an army overcoat and a cap. He examined the overcoat that was on exhibit for the state, and said that the defendant was wearing one similar.

On cross examination by the defense, he admitted that several of the former members of the Company B and ex-service men were wearing coats of the same kind.

Mrs. Marie Bennett occupied the stand most of the morning. She said

ENROLLMENT LAW IS BEING VIOLATED

R. B. Cooley of Lafayette, secretary of the Indiana Stallion Enrollment board, with headquarters at Lafayette, arrived in Rushville today and expects to spend some time in Rush county, he stated, in checking up on the owners of stallions and jacks to determine whether they are complying with the Indiana stallion enrollment law.

The statute provides that all stallions or jacks used or offered for use shall be enrolled (licensed) with the board at Lafayette.

For the most part, Mr. Cooley declared, the owners of jacks and stallions are complying with the law in a very commendable way, but there are two or three cases in this county, he added, that are regarded as violations.

Mr. Cooley stated that he was here to look after these particular cases and that the necessary legal action would be taken if the occasion arises. The law provides a penalty.

Mr. Easley stated that he had consented to act as county chairman of the campaign to recruit young men for the camps to be held at Camp Knox, Kentucky, July 2 to 31.

Rush county has been represented each year at the West Point camps.

VICTORY FOR COOLIDGE SEEN

With Johnson and Lafollette Dividing Country Vote, President Leads In North Dakota

STATEMENT BY MANAGER

Based on Unofficial Returns From All Parts of State, Victory Is Assured he Says

Fargo, N. D., March 19—With Senator Hiram Johnson of California and Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, splitting the country vote, victory for President Coolidge in the North Dakota presidential primary appeared assured on the basis of tabulations at noon today.

L. H. Hanna, state manager for Mr. Coolidge issued the following statement at noon:

"Without question President Coolidge will win the primary."

This statement was based on unofficial reports from all parts of the state, he said.

The count at noon from only 337 out of approximately 2,000 precincts stood Coolidge, 17,737; Johnson 9,062; La Follette, 5,952.

Fargo, N. D., March 19—President Calvin Coolidge had a lead of more than 2 to 1 in returns from cities early today as the presidential preference vote in North Dakota was counted.

Country precincts rapidly cut down his lead as they began coming in, and Senator Hiram Johnson's supporters were confident he would win the Republican preference.

Coolidge supporters, however, were confident of a substantial majority when all the votes are cast.

Senator Robert M. La Follette's "sticker" campaign, conducted in spite of the Wisconsin senator's wishes, amounted to much more than Johnson's following expected, and surprised politicians generally.

Many of the most liberal districts are isolated from telephone and telegraph communication and it is doubtful if the result will be known until late today.

Indications early today are that the vote will be very close between all three candidates. La Follette was gaining as rapidly as Johnson in the country returns, with the possibility of passing him.

NEW VENIRE IS CALLED TO COURT

Only Ten of First 100 Talesmen Drawn For McCray Trial Remained For Jury Selection

10 EXCUSED DURING MORNING

Inquiry Into Political Activities and Affiliation of Prospective Jurors By Attorneys

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19—Inquiry into political activities and affiliation of prospective jurors was made today in the trial of Governor Warren McCray, charged with embezzlement and grand larceny, in criminal court here by Eph Inman, special prosecutor.

Attorneys for the defense objected to this line of questioning but were over-ruled by Special Judge Harry O. Chamberlin.

The selection of the jury progressed slowly. Only four of the men who were in the box when court convened remained at the noon adjournment.

Fifty-one veniremen had been examined and thirty-nine of these excused, since the trial opened Monday.

Only ten more men remained in the first venire of one hundred drawn for the case. A large number of this venire could not be found or were excused from appearing. A second venire of one hundred reported today.

During the morning session ten men were examined and excused. Seven were excused because they had formed opinions as to McCray's guilt or innocence. One was excused because he said he could not hear questions put to him; one because he is not a citizen of the United States and one by agreement of attorneys.

Mr. Geraghty has been associated with Fairbanks and at one time wrote scenarios for the athletic star's pictures. More recently he has been supervisor of production for Paramount.

One of his first productions will be "The End of the World," starring Marilyn Miller, Jack Pickford's wife of "Sally" fame.

FIVE SCHOOLS TO BE IN DISTRICT EVENT

Oratorical Contest Will be Held in Rushville on Friday Evening, March 28

SUBJECTS ON CONSTITUTION

Five schools will be represented at the district oratorical contest, which is scheduled to be held in Rushville Friday night March 28, and the winner of this district will participate in the state contest to be held later.

The oratorical contest is a national event, the subject matter dealing with the constitution of the United States. The district contest on that day will eliminate the county contest, as only five schools in the county will take part, and in order to have a county contest, there must be six schools.

The various state winners will assemble in Washington for the final contest and for which a valuable prize is offered to the winners.

The schools to take part in the district contest here will be Carthage Indiana Soldiers' & Sailors' Orphan's Home, Gings, Milroy and Rushville. The student to represent Rushville will be John Kendall on the subject, "The Constitution."

BUILDING TO BE 2 STORIES HIGH

Structure to be Erected by Rush County National Bank Will Appear To be Taller

WILL HAVE HIGH CEILINGS

Odd Fellows to Take Second Story and Architects are Preparing Plans—Wreckers Through

The building which will be erected in place of the one destroyed by fire on Friday morning, January 25, at the southwest corner of Main and Second streets, will be only two stories in height.

This agreement has been reached between the building committee and the Rush County National bank, which bought the old building and the site, and the Odd Fellow lodge which has the right, under the terms of an old deed, to erect the top story.

The first story will be used by the Rush county bank and the second story by the lodge.

The architects, McGuire and Shook of Indianapolis, are now engaged in drawing the plans for the new structure, and as soon as they are finished and approved, the contract will be awarded, because the bank and the lodge as well are very anxious to see the new building under way.

Although the building will consist of only two stories, it will have the appearance of being taller than that, because the bank will have an eighteen-foot ceiling on the first floor and the lodge will have a ceiling from sixteen to eighteen feet high.

The work of the wreckers who tore down the ruins of the old building has been the marvel of people who have followed the razing of the fire ruins. They worked with such skill and speed that the site is clear of any trace of the old building, except the bank vault, which was not damaged in the fire and will be used in the new building. A temporary house has been built around the vault to protect it from the weather.

The last of the debris was being cleared away this morning and a board fence built around the basement to prevent people from falling into it.

S. L. HUNT OUT FOR SHERIFF

Becomes a Candidate for The Republican Nomination

Sidney L. Hunt, present sheriff of Rush county, today announced his candidacy of seeking the nomination for the office, in the republican primary election to be held May 6. Sheriff Hunt's present term of office will expire January 1, 1926, which is a two year office, and which is voted upon 14 months prior to the expiration date.

Mr. Hunt is the first candidate for several days to make an announcement and the political talk has apparently subsided. The prospective candidates for the primary election have until April 5 in which to file their intentions with the county clerk, and so far many of the candidates who have made announcements have failed to qualify at the clerk's office.

THREE PHASES OF DAUGHERTY PROBE

Involve Illegal Transportation of Fight Pictures and Laxity in Loan Co., Prosecutions

POLITICAL INFLUENCE SEEN

Whether it Was Used to Obtain Withdrawal Permits Subject to be Investigated

(By FRAZER EDWARDS
U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 19—More meshes in a network of sensational evidence were to be woven today by witnesses before the senate committee investigating Attorney General Daugherty.

Senator Wheeler, Montana Democrat, directing the inquiry, expected to develop testimony involving Attorney General Daugherty through personal and political friends in:

1—The illegal transportation and exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures.

2—The use of political influence to secure liquor withdrawal permits.

3—Laxity in the department of justice in prosecuting "lotter" loan companies.

William A. Orr, once secretary to ex-Governor Whitman of New York will be grilled regarding his connection with the fight film and liquor deals. Wheeler was displeased with the reluctance Orr displayed in his testimony yesterday and intimated that he would spare no pains in bringing out additional facts linking Daugherty with the activities of Orr, Howard Mannington and Jess Smith.

Tex Rickard, noted fight promoter, at a conference with Wheeler today indicated his willingness to tell the whole story of his connection with the fight films.

"Tex denied newspaper reports saying that he would 'bet a million' on Daugherty," said Wheeler.

Before Tex takes the stand, Wheeler said Maco Stewart, Galveston attorney, who has investigated "lottery" loan swindles, probably will finish his testimony.

Steps may be taken through the state department to force the return of Mannington, the mysterious figure of the "Greenhouse on K street" Wheeler said. The Ohio attorney, who was an intimate friend of Daugherty, is now said to be in Paris. Orr linked his name with liquor withdrawal cases.

"If the department of justice refuses to function, we'll see what the state department can do," said Wheeler.

Aroused by charges against her character made by Daugherty, Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Jesse Smith, is prepared to substantiate her sensational testimony of money deals between Smith and Daugherty when she returns to the stand tomorrow, according to members of the committee. She will be fortified by the documents which Daugherty charged she tried to sell his friends for $150,000.

Wheeler said witnesses are increasing at such a rate that it may be next week before Secretaries Meloni and Weeks will be called regarding charges of liquor deals and the aircraft case, in which Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, said Jesse Smith got $100,000 from a Japanese firm.

ACTION DEFERRED BY CITY COUNCIL

Further Steps Toward Improvement of Memorial Park and Hodges Branch Delayed

MAYOR THOMAS ABSENT

Absence of Councilman Brann, Who Resigned, Hinders Council's Work—Successor Agreed on

Only a few matters came up for discussion Tuesday night before the city council, which was in regular session, and the matter of proceeding further with Hodges Branch, and the improvement of Memorial park was carried over until the next session when the legal papers will be introduced for passage.

The councilmen last night accepted the resignation of Councilman O. C. Brann, who tendered his resignation at the last meeting night to become effective April 1. His successor has practically been decided upon, but will not be made a matter of record until the meeting night on April 1.

The new council member will be on hand at that meeting and he will be sworn in at the first, in order to take part in the session that will follow, and in which bids for two pieces of fire apparatus will be opened.

At the meeting last night, Mayor Walter Thomas was absent, and was called to Knightstown on account of the illness of a relative, and Councilman Brann was not present.

The bids for street oiling, which were opened at the last session, were carried over until last night, and the contract was awarded to J. S. Tabitt of Wyoming, O., for 6.32 cents a gallon, delivered in Rushville. The successful bidder had the contract for the past few years. Three bids were received on the oil, including one of 6.75 cents a gallon from the Charley Winburn Co., and 6.32 cents from the Standard Oil company. Although the two bids were of like amount, the council made the award to the Ohio man, because of his past record. The contract calls for 40,000 gallons, more or less, and will be put on the streets when the weather permits.

A representative of a fire extinguisher company, adaptable to fighting fires that are not controlled by chemicals, was present, and two of the smaller outfits were purchased and will be added to the present chemical equipments. The extinguisher is especially adapted for fighting gasoline, electric, oil and other fires where water is useless. The fluid also is harmless to property and persons, and is devoid of any acid.

An economy wave swept the councilmen when it was suggested that

COMMITTEE PROBES THE 1920 'OIL DEAL'

Wood Story of Attempt to Sell G. O. P. Presidential Nomination Before Senate Investigators

CLEVELAND MAN SUMMONED

(By United Press)

Washington, March 19—In a final effort to ascertain the facts about the reported "oil deal" in 1920, Senator Walsh today issued a subpoena for Carmi Thompson of Cleveland, who was associated with the late President Harding at the last nomination convention.

Harry F. Sinclair will be called to the stand in the senate oil investigation Friday, Senator Walsh announced today.

G. D. Wahlberg, Sinclair's former private secretary, will be recalled Thursday. Archie Roosevelt testified that Wahlberg advised him to resign his post with Sinclair for the sake of his family name.

The "Wood story" of an attempt to sell the Republican presidential nomination at the last Republican convention for promise of the secretaryship of interior O—the cabinet post which has control of the nation's natural resources—was first brought into print by a public statement from Leonard Wood Jr., who mentioned his father as one of the Republican presidential candidates who scorned the offer.

MILLION BUSHELS ASSURED

Goal in Indiana is 11,000,000 Bushels, Which Means About 23,000 in The Venture

Evansville, Ind., March 19—Forty percent of the wheat of southwestern Indiana has been signed up for co-operative marketing through the gigantic state wheat pool being organized by the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, according to reports made by six counties to the district campaign headquarters here today. Farmers who produce more than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat annually in the Evansville section have combined to pool all their wheat for a period of five years.

Active solicitation on the part of volunteer farmers began March 12 when the educational work in behalf of the pool ended and 1,000 farmers opened the campaign by securing signatures to wheat pooling contracts from their neighbors. Every contract is conditioned on securing 40 percent of the state's wheat crop by May 24, 1924. The goal is 11,000,000 which means about 20,000 co-operators in the venture, according to wheat pool leaders.

Dubois county is reported to have signed in excess of 10,000 acres since the drive opened, or about one-third of its average annual production. The townships of Posey county where the drive has been conducted pooled more than 1,000 acres on the basis of one day's returns.

Reports from Princeton state that 80 percent of the farmers in Gibson county are signing up. More than 20,000 acres were pooled in the first day's drive, nearly half the county's production. W. A. Wheeler, Princeton, placed in charge of the drive. One township of Vanderburg has pooled 87 percent of its wheat, according to Bertram Edmund, who today compiled the complete reports from Center township solicitors. The campaign has also been started in Knight Township, bringing the county total up to 3,000 acres.

The sign-up in Daviess county started, following a meeting of workers in the court house. Eighty farmers volunteered to be responsible for visiting every wheat grower in their communities, and the first two hours of the morning brought in more than 100 contracts. Incomplete returns indicate that more than half of the wheat of Daviess county will be signed by the end of the week. Knox county farm bureau officials together with representatives of the banks and commercial interests are planning a joint drive covering the entire county in behalf of the wheat pool Friday.

CENTRAL FIGURES IN LOUISVILLE "TORTURE" MURDER

Richard H. Heaton, wealthy Louisville broker, who, according to police, spent approximately $100,000 and many months' time in planning the operation. Surgeons say instruments he selected were the best obtainable. And he planned, detectives say, to have burned the body had Gates died.

Mrs. Mary Leahy Wiesen Heaton, widow of the slain broker, who was being trailed by private detectives her husband had hired. Heaton, in his fanatical state of mind, had accused her of intimacy with Gates, long an intimate friend of both.

For three days, William C. Gates was held prisoner in a "torture house" in Louisville, Ky. Bound hand and foot by strands of rope fastened to the floor by heavy staples, he saw his captor, Richard H. Heaton, wealthy Louisville broker, preparing to perform an operation that would have maimed him for life, if it had not brought his death. With almost superhuman strength he finally succeeded in freeing himself, obtained a revolver and killed the broker.

SEYMOUR MILL FAVORS POOLING

Willing to Lease Their Six Elevators
to Wheat Growers Association.
It Is Announced

PROPOSAL IS SIGNIFICANT

Seymour, Ind., March 19—Representatives of the Blish Milling company, Seymour, tentatively offered the elevator facilities, which are now under their control, to the Indiana wheat pool. The company is willing to negotiate for the leasing of their six elevators in Jackson and adjoining counties and the matter has been taken under advisement by the Indiana Farm Bureau, which is sponsoring the drive. After the sign-up campaign is completed and the association becomes ready to operate, the offer of the Blish Milling company will be considered.

Leaders of the wheat pool drive regard the proposition as of special significance—it indicates, they say, the attitude of milling interests throughout the state. Most of them will be willing to deal with the wheat pool on an equitable basis and no inconvenience will be met in arranging elevator facilities.

The elevators in the proposed transaction have storage capacity of more than 100,000 bushels of wheat. Each of the plants it is understood, could easily provide additional storage facilities.

The Blish company is said to be friendly to the wheat pool movement as its success would mean reduced freight costs in the shipment of wheat to its mill in this city. If the pool is successful a steady stream of wheat would be supplied throughout the year to meet the needs of the local company from the elevators in this district.

RICHEST IN CALIFORNIA

Naval Reserve No. 1 Was Created at
Height of San Joaquin Valley
While Taft was President

By M. D. TRACY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

(Copyrighted, 1924, by U. P.)
San Francisco, March 19—Forty-three and one-half square miles—27,840 acres—make up the portion of "Naval Reserve No. 1" which the government leased to E. L. Doherty's Pan-American Oil Company and which, with Teapot Dome, is the center of the present oil investigation in Washington.

It lies in the Elk Hills region of Kern county, beginning about 25 miles west of Bakersfield, oil center of the San Joaquin valley, California. The land itself, semi-arid and parched in summer beneath a sun which sends temperatures up close to 120 degrees at times, has been peopled in the past with homesteaders, dry farmers and small stock raisers, attempting to wrest from the earth a rather meager living.

It is in the foothills of the coast range mountains—the Elk Hills leading up to the loftier peaks of the Santa Barbara's, which, in turn, break abruptly into the sea less than 1100 miles westward.

Beneath this rather forbidding land is believed to stand pools of oil of untold extent. To the south, east and the north lie the Lost Hills, the Coalinga, Taft, Santa Maria, McKittrick and other oil fields which have their stories of making millions overnight and which are not yet exhausted. Across the Santa Barbara and a little to the southward are the Ventura and Summerland fields, where oil is pumped from the opposite side of the coast range mountains.

Geologists have declared Naval Reserve No. 1 probably one of the richest of the California fields.

Whoever may be found to own this oil now, geologists believe that it originally belonged to Adam and Eve.

It was formed through the ages, by the processes through which nature makes its coal, its oil and many of the other riches of the earth. As the mountains rose from the sea it seeped and trickled from the higher levels into the pools of the foothills and there awaited the coming of man.

Naval Reserve No. 1 was created at the height of the San Joaquin valley oil boom, while William Howard Taft was President. Under the so-called "Taft Withdrawal Order" which created the reserve it was withdrawn from entry as public land and turned over to the navy to lie there as America's reserve supply of oil for her fighting ships when a time of emergency might arise.

Until leased to the Doherty interests, this field was untouched. Then operations on it were started in what oil men consider only a half-hearted fashion. But three wells have been sunk on the vast lease to date. These are producing approximately 3,000 barrels each per day. Only about a dozen men are employed on the lease, although on the same company's ad-

Washington, March 19—A federal grand jury will be empaneled here within two weeks to consider evidence of criminal conspiracy in the oil scandal, it was learned today. Indictments are to be sought against three persons as the principals and several others may be involved as alleged accomplices.

Grand jury action is to be shortly after the return from the west of Adlai Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, special presidential counsel, who have now put under way civil suits for cancellation of Teapot Dome and California naval oil reserve leases to Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doherty.

Charges of conspiracy to defraud the government and of bribery set for the in the petitions for cancellation, will form the foundation of the government's criminal proceedings.

Pushing of the criminal charges need not necessarily await the results of the civil suits, it was pointed out here today, as the questions involved in the criminal cases will not be affected by the court's decision as to the validity of illegality of the leases themselves. Imminent counsel said today that even if the leases were held technically within the law, criminal prosecution could proceed if it could be shown that a conspiracy was entered into to violate laws in order to get the leases or if bribery was restored to.

This is generally attributed not so much to a desire to let the lease lie idle, as to a method of meeting market conditions. On the Pan-American Company's adjoining leases numerous wells have been driven down to within a short distance of the oil bearing sand and then closed. When market conditions become more favorable these wells can be quickly brought into production. It is the belief here that the Pan-American company planned to extend this mode of operation to the naval reserve field.

Witness Says Cloud Told Her Of Once Having Held up a Man

that she was married to Bennett in 1921, and came here to live last year. She said she had known Cloud since last summer, when she met him in South Main street, during a carnival. Directing her attention to any conversation that she ever had with Cloud concerning his past record, she said that he had told her that he had held up a "fellow along a highway once, but he didn't say where it was, nor how much money he got."

Continuing further, she said that Cloud had told her that he had done different "jobs". On this same occasion, in their conversation, which she said was during the middle of the week prior to the shooting, Cloud told her "that he was going to do one more job and then quit."

She described his appearance and the clothes he wore on the Saturday night of the alleged shooting, and stated that he wore an army overcoat similar to the one that was an exhibit in the court room.

Directing the witnesses attention to the Saturday in question, the state asked the following question:

"On Saturday did you have any conversation with Cloud?"

Answer, "Yes, sir, he asked me for a piece of black cloth to shine his shoes with."

Question, "Did you get it for him?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "What size was the cloth?"

Answer, "I would say about two foot square."

Question, "Then afterwards, did you see anything of this cloth?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "Where?"

Answer, "In the kitchen, where Cloud had a piece of it 12 or 14 inches long, and 3 or 4 inches wide."

Question, "What was he doing with it?"

Answer, "Hemming it."

Question, "What did you say or do when you saw Cloud?"

Answer, "I asked him if he didn't want me to hem it, and he said yes."

Question, "How did you hem it, with a sewing machine or needle?"

Answer, "I hemmed it with a needle."

Question, "On one or two sides?"

Answer, "All the way around, and then I gave it to him."

Question, "Did you ever see it again?"

Answer, "The next time I saw him with it, he was tying strings on it—one on each end."

Continuing in the questioning of the witness, the state learned that Mrs. Inez Levi came into the house that evening, about 7:30 o'clock, during the last process of the tying the strings on the piece of cloth.

Mrs. Bennett said that while Mrs. Levi was there Cloud wrote a letter in the kitchen. The state questioned her as follows:

"Did you see the letter, and what did Cloud do with it?"

Answer, "Had me to back it for him."

Question, "Did you read it?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "What was in the letter?"

The objections of the defense were sustained, because the court held that the letter itself was the best evidence, and the state contended that the letter was not in their possession.

Question, "Who was it addressed to?"

Answer, "I don't remember."

The witness also could not recall to what place the letter was addressed. She said further that the letter was given to Mrs. Levi, for the purpose of mailing.

Mrs. Bennett stated that Cloud left the house that night, which was on Saturday night of the alleged murder, about 8 o'clock with Mrs. Levi, but returned within an hour or an hour and a half.

She stated that he returned and changed shoes. "He asked me if my husband had an old pair, and I told him that he did not, and he asked me if 'Chuck' had a pair, and I told him that I didn't know." She said that he changed shoes, and wore a dress shoe, with smooth heels, and the shoes he discarded had rubber heels.

Question by the state, "After he left did he ever come back anymore that night?"

Answer, "He returned in about an hour and a half."

Question, "Did you see him?"

Answer, "No, he came and opened the front door, and told my husband to 'tell Bill when he comes back, that I have gone'."

Question, "When did you next see him?"

Answer, "The next morning, Sunday morning around 9 or 9:30 at the house."

Question, "Did you talk to him about the shooting of Mr. Sharp?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "What was said?"

Answer, "When he came into the kitchen, I accused him of the Sharp hold-up. He said that he had not done the shooting, and told me that he had pulled a job up in the north end of town that night.

When questioned further about the conversation, Mrs. Bennett said in answer to a question about the Sharp affair:

"Cloud told me, referring to Sharp, that any— that tried to throw a fellow out of his place when he had him covered, ought to be shot."

In the progress of her testimony, she admitted that she had seen an army gun in the household, and that she had seen Cloud with it, and examining it, but she had never seen him take it out of the house.

Question by the state, "Was that gun missing from the house that week?"

Answer was stricken from the record.

Question, "Where was Chuck Taylor and his wife on that Saturday?"

Answer, "They said they were in Indianapolis."

Shortly after this, the witness was given over to the defense for cross examination, and many preliminary questions were asked concerning her family history.

She was questioned by Mr. Stevens as follows:

Question, "You have been down at the county jail for awhile?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "Did you leave Rushville, before or after your husband was put in jail?"

Answer, "Afterwards."

The defense ascertained from the witness that she left in an automobile.

Question, "Who with?"

Answer, "Mr. Steele."

Question, "What is his Christian name?"

Answer, "Mr. John Steele."

Question, "How long have you known Mr. Steele before this time?"

Answer, "About two years."

She stated that she went to Toledo in the machine with Mr. Steele, and this is the city where she was arrested and returned here as a witness. She stated that Mr. Steele was a married man, and said that she had sent for him to come after her. She explained that she had worked for him before, and was working for him in Toledo, and that she had charge of collections.

Question, "What kind of business is he engaged in?"

Answer, "He runs a collecting agency. He's a lawyer in Toledo."

The crowd laughed, when Mr. Stevens said, "That don't mean very much."

Mr. Stevens then went into detail again about the piece of cloth that was mentioned on direct examination. She said that when she saw it for the second time and that it was cut to a piece about 12 inches long and 3 1/2 inches wide, she admitted that it was about the size of a shoe shining cloth.

The witness also stated that the defendant didn't show any signs of anxiety or nervousness when Mrs. Levi entered the room that night, when he was working with the piece of cloth.

The defense questioned her about his assertions that he had done many different jobs of robbery. She said that he didn't cite and particular case, but told her that she could read about them in the paper.

The witness stated that Cloud was drinking on the afternoon that he asked her for the piece of cloth. She stated also that she knew that there was an affidavit on file against Cloud for stealing money from Willard Bennett, but denied that she had ever talked to him about it.

When the defense got through with the cross-examination, the state asked another question: "Did Cecil Cloud shine any shoes after he got that rag?"

Answer, "None that I saw."

The next witness was Samuel T. Deweese of Carthage, who stated that he was in jail for a time when Cloud was confined there. He was asked the following questions:

"While in the county jail, did he ever talk to you about getting any weapons?"

The witness stated that he had, and that when Cloud began to talk about getting a gun so that he could get the keys from the sheriff, that he refused to listen to him, and would not talk to him about it. The witness said that Cloud approached him with promises to give him things, if he would get a gun to him, after he got out of jail.

Charley Bennett was the next witness and told about the same kind of a story that his wife had told, and stated that he was down town Sunday morning after the shooting, and heard that Cloud was suspected, and he told him about it, and that Cloud left in a machine with Bill Taylor.

Most of the afternoon witnesses yesterday were principally for the purpose to set the back ground of the trial, and to lay before the jury the events that transpired on the night of December 8, when the fatal shooting took place.

These witnesses included persons who heard the shots and who were among the first to reach the wounded man. In all probability the jury will take an excursion before the end of the case, viewing the grounds, meat shop and location, which is hard to lay before them in words.

Witnesses who testified concerning the shots, had followed the witnesses who had attended the injured man at the hospital when he was operated on, and also those who were present at the autopsy.

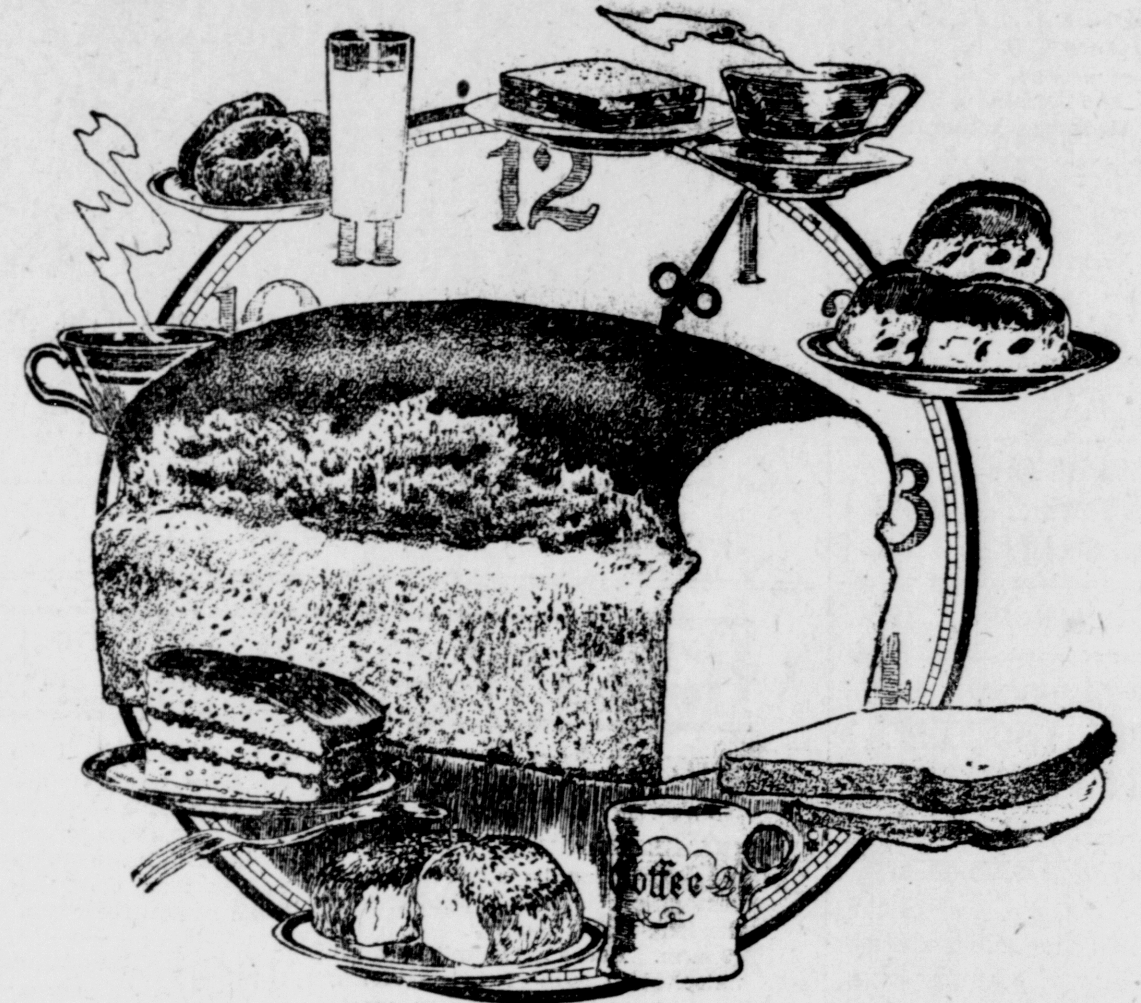

Among the witnesses who testified late yesterday was Frank Farley, Jr., who lives in the vicinity of the meat shop, which is located in West Second street, near the building now occupied by the Hoosier Corn Turner factory.

This witness stated that he was in his house and heard two shots. He heard the third shot when he reached his front porch. He said that he didn't see anyone leave the meat shop in any direction. Farley recalled that when he went off of his front porch and started toward the meat shop, that Sharp called to him, and told him that he had been shot.

Farley said that Sharp asked him to help him to a chair. When Farley had reached the meat shop, he said other people had arrived.

Virgil Clark, who lives at Hannah and Second street, 2 1/2 blocks from the meat shop, was on his bicycle going home, in Second street at 10:20 o'clock that night, he testified.

He said he heard a shot as he was near the meat shop, and that he left his wheel, and ran over to the Sharp meat market. He said that the shot was loud and distinct, and had evidently been fired from the outside.

According to this witness, he was the first person to reach the injured man. He was standing, holding onto the door, according to Clark, and was in need of assistance, and that others arrived almost immediately.

He said that the injured man was taken to the Dr. Sexton hospital, after an effort had been made to call a physician over the telephone. All witnesses testified that the night was very rainy.

Lige Hankins, who conducts a grocery store six or eight feet west of the Sharp meat market, was the next witness for the state. He said that he and his family reside at the rear of his store, and that he had retired when he heard three shots.

He dressed upon hearing the shots, he said. The first shot was dim or muffled, the second shot a little louder and the third shot was still louder, he said. When he reached the meat market, he said that Sharp had been taken away in an automobile.

Mr. Hankins stated that he observed the cash register being open, and that the money was piled around it. He assumed charge of the money, and soon afterwards turned it over to Charley Sharp, a brother of the deceased, who is associated in the business, and who was the next witness on the stand.

Mr. Sharp verified the statement of Mr. Hankins regarding the money, and stated that it amounted to $500 as nearly as he could remember, and that possibly $350 of this was in cash, and the rest in checks.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1924

If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday; and the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones.—Isaiah 58: 10, 11.

Denby's Successor

The nomination of Chief Justice Curtis D. Wilbur of the California Supreme Court, and confirmation by the senate, to be Secretary of the Navy succeeding Edwin Denby who resigned has met with approval on all sides. Wilbur is a native of Boonesville, Iowa having been born there on May 10, 1867. He graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1888, afterward entering the law.

His first entrance into public life was as chief deputy district attorney of Los Angeles, serving in that capacity for four years. He was then elected superior judge, holding that office until 1918 when he was elected associate justice of the California Supreme Court, entering that body in 1919 for a twelve year term. Last year he was elevated to the chief justiceship.

Despite the fact that he forsook the navy for the law he has always maintained a keen interest in naval affairs more especially the mechanical side and has ever been a keen student of the progress made in battleships during the past decade or so. In California they say that his very industriousness causes others to work hard while engaged upon any task with him.

Mr. Wilbur is a man of deep religious feeling. He does not smoke or drink and for a number of years wrote what might be called a weekly sermon for the Los Angeles papers. He is a man who stands for those institutions on which this country is founded. He believes in church life and the sanctity of the home.

Better Citizens

The war department expects to take care of 40,000 students in the summer military training camps which will open in all army corps areas in July. Young men between the age of 17 and 24 are eligible.

No service the government performs is more valuable than this because it offers the youth of the country a chance for a month's vacation at no expense that at the same time will be beneficial.

The summer training camps are an extension of the Plattsbury idea of 1915, favorite Americanization plan of Theodore Roosevelt. They have grown in popularity each year until all of the requests for admission can not be granted.

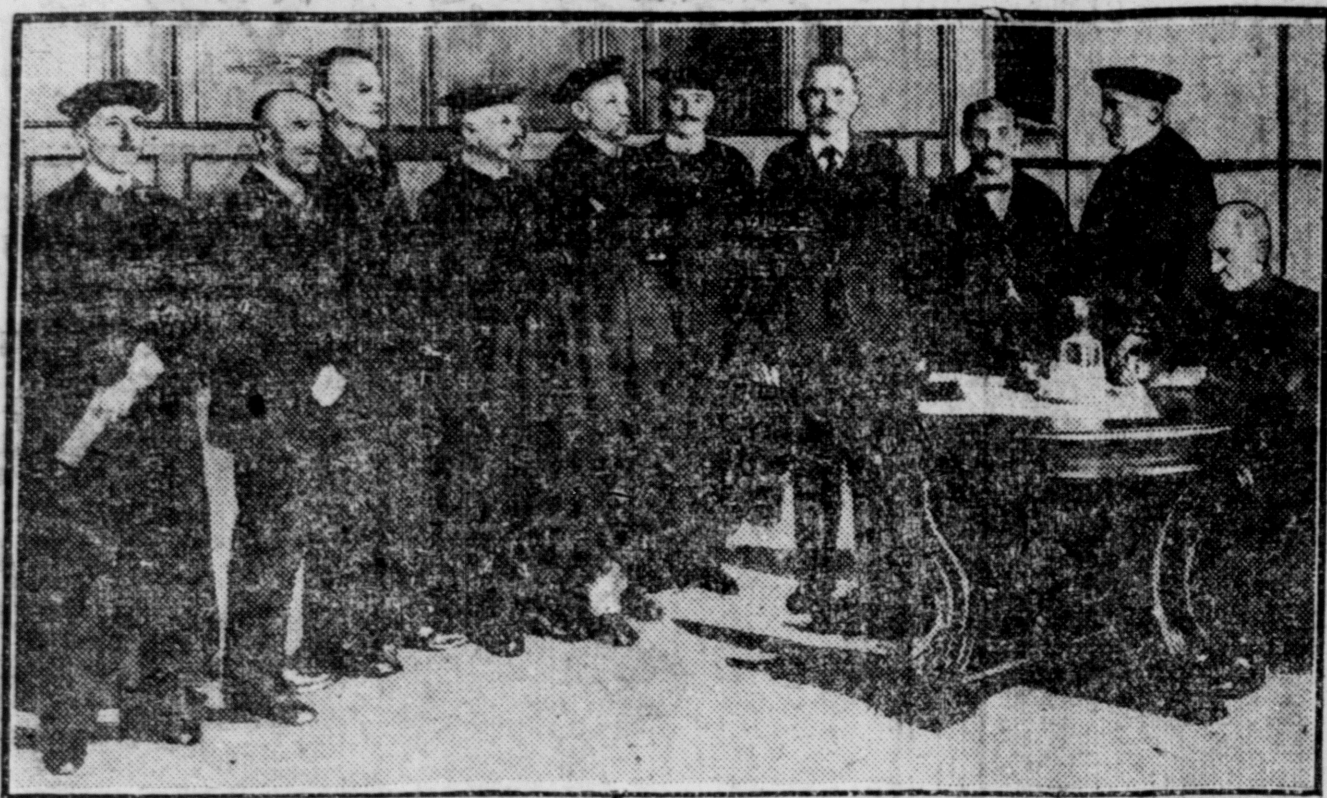

The country is only as strong as its young men. Anything that will teach them better living habits and that will make them better citizens is deserving and worthy of support.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The log of one day's Senate oil investigation. Just a typical day in the long-drawn inquiry.

9 a. m. Doors to committee room unlocked. Group of early arrivals, mostly women who do not on sensations, hurry in and get front seats in the public section. Buzz of conversation, reviewing past sessions, begins.

9:30 a. m. Room filling up. Attendees carry in more chairs. The big room, 49 by 80 feet, with high-vaulted ceiling extending through two stories, takes on appearance of society ballroom in use for fashionable lecture on "Personality—How to Get It."

9:45. Dick Collins of the Senate Press Gallery comes in with an armful of yellow "copy" paper which he distributes to press tables. Newspapersmen begin arriving. Ed Smithers, White House telegrapher who worked the Washington end of Ned McLean's private wire of evenings, takes a seat on a big leather couch behind the committee table. With him is "Pat" McKenna, stocky, round-faced doorkeeper at the White House who wired McLean Secretary Slepman was leaving for Palm Beach. Room now crowded. Standing room only.

9:57. Senator Ladd, retuned acting chairman, enters from private ante-room, seats self at table. Walsh comes briskly in, followed by Dill of Washington. Portentous pause as committee-men arrange their papers and the hands of the clock approach 10 a. m.—the hour set for the hearing.

10 o'clock. Senator Walsh announces that, inasmuch as the members wish to read over some telegrams not previously studied, the committee will go into executive session. The room must therefore be cleared.

10 to 10:10. Indignant but privately voiced protests among the early arrivals at having to give up their choice seats. Wonder if they will be able to get back in.

NEWSY GOSSIP IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Will Death Stop Reds?

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 19—Baseball critics do not agree in their opinion on what effect the death of Pat Moran will have on the Cincinnati Reds and the National League pennant race for 1924.

Some feel that Moran has passed on to his successor a ready-made pennant winner and one that might go almost unguessed to the championship on its own merits.

Others maintain that the club's chances for the pennant depend entirely upon the pitching staff and without the genius of Moran, the Reds will have only an ordinary staff.

While other points may be in doubt, however, it is certain that if the loss of Moran does not hurt the Reds, it certainly does not hurt the New York Giants. The Reds may be no weaker without their old manager, but they certainly are not stronger without him at the wheel.

Pat Moran's success was due to individual brilliance, to unusual skill in handling pitchers and to a winning personality and a genius for leadership. Pat Moran won on Pat Moran, and not on any system. He left nothing at Cincinnati by which his successor could say: "You do just as Pat had you do."

If John McGraw should stay away from New York Giants, his successor would find an established system of McGraw baseball. He could tell the players to do as McGraw always had them do and they could carry on. That old "master mind" staff of McGraw's has been shown to have been the bunk. The players on McGraw teams do follow his instructions closely, but they do not take the order from him on every ball.

If a system could be applied to the playing of baseball and the development of baseball teams like it is applied to football, the loss of a manager would not be such a severe blow.

Harvard is said to have the greatest football system in the country. When Percy Houghton, its founder, stepped out, Bob Fisher stepped in and followed the same system with just the same success.

But it can't be done in baseball because the situation that requires different kinds of plays are vastly more numerous in baseball than they are in football. The baseball manager cannot hand his players a book of plays when he takes them to the training camp and tell them to get busy and learn the signals and run off the plays.

The baseball manager can't look at a book himself or hand his captain a book that would tell him when to take a pitcher out of the box, when he was going to blow and when he was settled, when to hit it out and when to lay it down and a hundred other whens.

Secret of Keeping Young

Why is it that some women look older at thirty-five than others do at fifty? Why is it that so many women are always run-down, weak, pale, nervous, irritable and unhappy? Health, vitality and freedom from pain and disease alone can prevent the signs of age from fastening themselves upon women. All over this country women are awakening to the fact that the ills, aches and pains of women may be relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the result is renewed life, energy and the glow of health. SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 3.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble.

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs. Be sure to get the genuine, Theodor's.

ARE YOU RUPTURED?

We wish to announce the visit of the Collings Truss Expert at the Seacraft Hotel, Rushville, Ind., Thursday, March 20, from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 9 in the evening.

Back View of New Invention for Rupture

We want to demonstrate to you absolutely without a penny in advance, our new invention for holding difficult or aggravated cases of rupture whether of inguinal or umbilical character. If you are ruptured you should be interested in our ability to fit you with a truss that will do its work properly and give you the greatest ease and comfort possible.

—SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL—

This new Collings Truss is based on the most scientific principles for holding a rupture. It is not only representative of mechanical perfection but contains that super-power for holding a rupture without discomfort, and that makes for a complete recovery where this result is possible.

—CONTAINS NO SPRINGS—

There are no springs or metal parts used in this new truss other than the small necessary buckles; instead it is made of high-grade elastic web with soft, pliable cloth back made wider so to distribute the pressure over a broader surface. Prevents all cutting and chafing, and gives the necessary uplift to the pads.

—IT HOLDS THE RUPTURE—

It is easily, quickly and permanently adjusted so an even and uniform pressure can be constantly maintained at any desired tension. The patented sectional pads are adaptable and will fit any kind of rupture. As the cure progresses the pressure can be lessened without a change of pads.

—IT STAYS PUT—

When placed in position, the truss stays put and does not skid or slide. Regardless of the position of the wearer's body; stooping, jumping or standing erect, the truss remains firm and set, and adjusts itself as the occasion demands.

COMFORTABLE DAY OR NIGHT

To do its maximum amount of good, a truss should be worn continuously day and night. Upon retiring many people remove their truss, with the result that the weakened muscular tissues relax and oftentimes allow the rupture to assume the form of the original protrusion. This new truss can be worn at all times.

FREE DEMONSTRATIONS FOR ONE DAY ONLY THURSDAY MARCH 20

Every ruptured person should visit our truss-expert and learn what genuine truss-comfort means. No charge for demonstration or information. Capt. W. A. COLLINGS, Inc., Watertown, N. Y. —Advertisement

MOVIES

"Souls For Sale," Castle

Rupert Hughes and the Goldwyn casting department were not consciously trying to write a Who's Who in Screenland when they selected the players for Mr. Hughes' latest picture, "Souls For Sale," which will be the attraction at the Castle theatre for 3 days, beginning Thursday, but they came very near doing it. The cast sheet of this story of the film colony in Hollywood might easily be mistaken for a directory of the colony.

The players include Eleanor Broadman, who has the leading role, Mae Busch, Bara LaMar, Richard Dix, Frank Mayo, Lew Cody, Arthur Hoyt, David Imboden, Roy Atwell, William Orlamond, Forrest Robinson, Edith Yorke, William Hines, George Morgan, Dale Fuller, Snitz Edwards, Auld Thomas, Leo Willis, Yale Boss, Walter Perry, Sam Daman, R. H. Johnson, Jack Richardson, Rush Hughes, Aileen Pringle, Eve Southern, May Milloy Sylvia Ashton, Fred Kelsey, L. J. O'Connor, Jed Prouty, Charlie Murphy, Margaret Bourne.

Gloria Swanson Picture

Gloria Swanson in "The Humming Bird,"—a tuneful title—a colorful story. It's a Sidney Oleott production for Paramount which opened at the Princess theatre tonight. Miss Swanson is the star, with Edward Barnas as leading man and Jacques Fauray, Mario Majeroni, William Ricciardi and others in support.

The story is an adaption of the stage play by Maude Fulton. The star has the role of Toinette, a girl of the Paris underworld, leader of the Apaches, whose undaunted courage makes her a heroic figure during the dark days of the World War, when Paris was threatened with invasion. She falls in love with Randall Carey, representative of an American newspaper, this furnishing the motivation for the story.

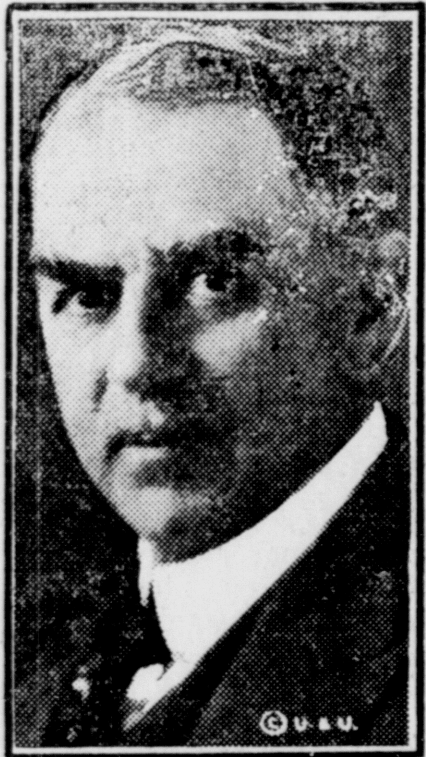

Toinette in her dual role of the "Humming Bird" is a hunted creature. Every crime committed in the Montmartre section is credited to "him," for, to all but her intimates the "Humming Bird" is an extremely clever boy. She is too much for the authorities, though. The girl does great work in enlisting her associates into the service of France for which she receives the pardon of France for her crimes and is decorated with the Croix de Guerre, won by an associate, unfortunate on the field of battle.

Romantic Adventures

"When Odds Are Even," the William Russell production that is showing at the Mystic theatre today, is a romantic adventure drama that takes in half the world before the final fade-out. The action leaps from the Golden Gate to the South Sea Islands where William Russell Dorothy DeVore, Frank Beal, Lloyd Dorothy DeVore, Frank Beal, Lloyd Whitlock, and others equally well-known in motion pictures, have prominent roles in this production.

Director James Flood has recourse to the photographic art that has placed him among the foremost of dramatic supervisors. His work is well displayed in its most excellent form in this production.

WITNESS SAYS CLOUD TOLD HER OF ONCE HAVING HELD UP A MAN

Mrs. Marie Bennett Testifies in Murder Trial That Defendant Said he Had One More "Job"

AN INCIDENT AT HER HOME

State Witness Describes How Cloud Hemmed Piece of Cloth and Tied String to Each End

BULLETIN.

The murder trial will come to an end shortly before noon Thursday. The state finished with their evidence at 3:30 this afternoon, and the defense offered no evidence, ending the case unexpectedly. Each side was given two hours for arguments, or 4 hours for all. Half of this time was to be taken up late today, leaving the remaining two hours for argument in the morning.

The state did not use all witnesses summoned for trial.

The state today delved into facts that surrounded the shooting of Luther C. Sharp on December 8, and for which Cecil Cloud is on trial on the charge of first degree murder in the circuit court, with prosecution today attempting to fasten the guilt on the defendant with the circumstantial evidence that was being uncovered.

Mrs. Marie Bennett, age 23, wife of Charles Bennett, was among the principal witnesses for the state who outlined to the jury several possible clues that tended to aid in the circumstantial background that was being laid by the state.

Her husband also was a witness for the state, and corroborated her testimony to a great extent. Each has been held in jail upon default of bond and as important witnesses for the state.

The case opened this morning with Mrs. Nellie Taylor, wife of Chester Taylor, being the first witness. She described the location and situation of her home, which she said was in West First street, and contained three rooms, used by her husband and herself, and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett.

She told about Cloud being a frequent visitor at the house. She also told about a 45 calibre gun that her husband had in a drawer in their room, and which disappeared before the shooting and was returned after the shooting. She said she turned the gun over to Sheriff Hunt February 28.

Donald Newman was the next witness and said that he knew Cloud. He recalled seeing him at First and Morgan streets between 7:30 and eight o'clock on the night of the fatal shooting. He described how he was dressed, with an army overcoat and a cap. He examined the overcoat that was an exhibit for the state, and said that the defendant was wearing one similar.

On cross examination by the defense, he admitted that several of the former members of the Company B and ex-service men were wearing coats of the same kind.

Mrs. Marie Bennett occupied the stand most of the morning. She said

VICTORY FOR COOLIDGE SEEN

With Johnson and Lafolette Dividing Country Vote, President Leads in North Dakota

STATEMENT BY MANAGER

Based on Unofficial Returns From All Parts of State, Victory Is Assured he Says

Fargo, N. D., March 19—With Senator Hiram Johnson of California and Senator Robert M. Lafolette of Wisconsin, splitting the country vote, victory for President Coolidge in the North Dakota presidential primary appeared assured on the basis of tabulations at noon today.

L. H. Hanna, state manager for Mr. Coolidge issued the following statement at noon:

"Without question President Coolidge will win the primary."

This statement was based on unofficial reports from all parts of the state, he said.

The count at noon from only 337 out of approximately 2,000 precincts stood Coolidge, 17,737; Johnson 9,062; Lafolette, 5,952.

Fargo, N. D., March 19—President Calvin Coolidge had a lead of more than 2 to 1 in returns from cities early today as the presidential preference vote in North Dakota was counted.

Country precincts rapidly cut down his lead as they began coming in, and Senator Hiram Johnson's supporters were confident he would win the Republican preference.

Coolidge supporters, however, were confident of a substantial majority when all the votes are cast.

Senator Robert M. Lafolette's "sticker" campaign, conducted in spite of the Wisconsin senator's wishes, amounted to much more than Johnson's following expected, and surprised politicians generally.

Many of the most liberal districts are isolated from telephone and telegraph communication and it is doubtful if the result will be known until late today.

Indications early today are that the vote will be very close between all three candidates. Lafolette was gaining as rapidly as Johnson in the country returns, with the possibility of passing him.

Inquiry Into Political Activities and Affiliation of Prospective Jurors By Attorneys

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19—Inquiry into political activities and affiliation of prospective jurors was made today in the trial of Governor Warren McCray, charged with embezzlement and grand larceny, in criminal court here by Eph Inman, special prosecutor.

Attorneys for the defense objected to this line of questioning but were over-ruled by Special Judge Harry O. Chamberlin.

The selection of the jury progressed slowly. Only four of the men who were in the box when court convened remained at the noon adjournment.

Fifty-one veniremen had been examined and thirty-nine of these excused, since the trial opened Monday.

Only ten more men remained in the first venire of one hundred drawn for the case. A large number of this venire could not be found or were excused from appearing. A second venire of one hundred reported today.

During the morning session ten men were examined and excused. Seven were excused because they had formed opinions as to McCray's guilt or innocence. One was excused because he said he could not hear questions put to him; one because he is not a citizen of the United States and one by agreement of attorneys.

BUILDING TO BE 2 STORIES HIGH

Structure to Be Erected by Rush County National Bank Will Appear To Be Taller

WILL HAVE HIGH CEILINGS

Odd Fellows to Take Second Story and Architects are Preparing Plans—Wreckers Through

The building which will be erected in place of the one destroyed by fire on Friday morning, January 25, at the southwest corner of Main and Second streets, will be only two stories in height.

This agreement has been reached between the building committee and the Rush County National bank, which bought the old building and the site, and the Odd Fellow lodge which has the right, under the terms of an old deed, to erect the top story.

The first story will be used by the Rush county bank and the second story by the lodge.

The architects, McGuire and Shook of Indianapolis, are now engaged in drawing the plans for the new structure, and as soon as they are finished and approved, the contract will be awarded, because the bank and the lodge as well are very anxious to see the new building under way.

Although the building will consist of only two stories, it will have the appearance of being taller than that, because the bank will have an eighteen-foot ceiling on the first floor and the lodge will have a ceiling from sixteen to eighteen feet high.

The work of the wreckers who tore down the ruins of the old building has been the marvel of people who have followed the razing of the fire ruins. They worked with such skill and speed that the site is clear of any trace of the old building, except the bank vault, which was not damaged in the fire and will be used in the new building. A temporary house has been built around the vault to protect it from the weather.

The last of the debris was being cleared away this morning and a board fence built around the basement to prevent people from falling into it.

S. L. HUNT OUT FOR SHERIFF

Becomes a Candidate for The Republican Nomination

Sidney L. Hunt, present sheriff of Rush county, today announced his candidacy of seeking the nomination for the office, in the republican primary election to be held May 6. Sheriff Hunt's present term of office will expire January 1, 1926, which is a two year office, and which is voted upon 14 months prior to the expiration date.

Mr. Hunt is the first candidate for several days to make an announcement and the political talk has apparently subsided. The prospective candidates for the primary election have until April 5 in which to file their intentions with the county clerk, and so far many of the candidates who have made announcements have failed to qualify at the clerk's office.

THREE PHASES OF DAUGHERTY PROBE

Involve Illegal Transportation of Fight Pictures and Laxity in Loan Co. Prosecutions

POLITICAL INFLUENCE SEEN

Whether it Was Used to Obtain Withdrawal Permits Subject to be Investigated

(By FRAZER EDWARDS
U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 19—More meshes in a network of sensational evidence were to be woven today by witnesses before the senate committee investigating Attorney General Daugherty.

Senator Wheeler, Montana Democrat, directing the inquiry, expected to develop testimony involving Attorney General Daugherty through personal and political friends in:

1—The illegal transportation and exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures.

2—The use of political influence to secure liquor withdrawal permits.

3—Laxity in the department of justice in prosecuting "lotter" loan companies.

William A. Orr, once secretary to ex-Governor Whitman of New York will be grilled regarding his connection with the fight film and liquor deals. Wheeler was displeased with the reluctance Orr displayed in his testimony yesterday and intimated that he would spare no pains in bringing out additional facts linking Daugherty with the activities of Orr, Howard Manning and Jess Smith.

Tex Rickard, noted fight promoter, at a conference with Wheeler today indicated his willingness to tell the whole story of his connection with the fight films.

"Tex denied newspaper reports saying that he would bet a million on Daugherty," said Wheeler.

Before Tex takes the stand, Wheeler said Maco Stewart, Galveston attorney, who has investigated "lottery" loan swindles, probably will finish his testimony.

Steps may be taken through the state department to force the return of Manning, the mysterious figure of the "Greenhouse on K street" Wheeler said. The Ohio attorney, who was an intimate friend of Daugherty, is now said to be in Paris. Orr linked his name with liquor withdrawal cases.

"If the department of justice refuses to function, we'll see what the state department can do," said Wheeler.

Aroused by charges against her character made by Daugherty, Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Jesse Smith, is prepared to substantiate her sensational testimony of money deals between Smith and Daugherty when she returns to the stand tomorrow, according to members of the committee. She will be fortified by the documents which Daugherty charged she tried to sell his friends for $150,000.

Wheeler said witnesses are increasing at such a rate that it may be next week before Secretaries Melick and Weeks will be called regarding charges of liquor deals and the aircraft case, in which Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, said Jesse Smith got $100,000 from a Japanese firm.

ACTION DEFERRED BY CITY COUNCIL

Further Steps Toward Improvement of Memorial Park and Hodges Branch Delayed

MAYOR THOMAS ABSENT

Absence of Councilman Brann, Who Resigned, Hinders Council's Work—Successor Agreed on

Only a few matters came up for discussion Tuesday night before the city council, which was in regular session, and the matter of proceeding further with Hodges Branch, and the improvement of Memorial park was carried over until the next session when the legal papers will be introduced for passage.

The councilmen last night accepted the resignation of Councilman O. C. Brann, who tendered his resignation at the last meeting night to become effective April 1. His successor has practically been decided upon, but will not be made a matter of record until the meeting night on April 1.

The new council member will be on hand at that meeting and he will be sworn in at the first, in order to take part in the session that will follow, and in which bids for two pieces of fire apparatus will be opened.

At the meeting last night, Mayor Walter Thomas was absent, and was called to Knightstown on account of the illness of a relative, and Councilman Brann was not present.

The bids for street oiling, which were opened at the last session, were carried over until last night, and the contract was awarded to J. S. Tabitt of Wyoming, O., for 6.32 cents a gallon, delivered in Rushville. The successful bidder had the contract for the past few years. Three bids were received on the oil, including one of 6.75 cents a gallon from the Chapley Winburn Co., and 6.32 cents from the Standard Oil company. Although the two bids were of like amount, the council made the award to the Ohio man, because of his past record. The contract calls for 40,000 gallons, more or less, and will be put on the streets when the weather permits.

A representative of a fire extinguisher company, adaptable to fighting fires that are not controlled by chemicals, was present, and two of the smaller outfits were purchased and will be added to the present chemical equipments. The extinguisher is especially adapted for fighting gasoline, electric, oil and other fires where water is useless. The fluid also is harmless to property and persons, and is devoid of any acid.

An economy wave swept the councilmen when it was suggested that

COMMITTEE PROBES THE 1920 'OIL DEAL'

Wood Story of Attempt to Sell G. O. P. Presidential Nomination Before Senate Investigators

CLEVELAND MAN SUMMONED

(By United Press)

Washington, March 19—In a final effort to ascertain the facts about the reported "oil deal" in 1920, Senator Walsh today issued a subpoena for Carmi Thompson of Cleveland, who was associated with the late President Harding at the last nomination convention.

Harry F. Sinclair will be called to the stand in the senate oil investigation Friday, Senator Walsh announced today.

G. D. Wahlberg, Sinclair's former private secretary, will be recalled Thursday. Archie Roosevelt testified that Wahlberg advised him to resign his post with Sinclair for the sake of his family name.

The "Wood story" of an attempt to sell the Republican presidential nomination at the last Republican convention for promise of the secretaryship of interior O—the cabinet post, which has control of the nation's natural resources—was first brought into print by a public statement from Leonard Wood Jr., who mentioned his father as one of the Republican presidential candidates who scorned the offer.

ENROLLMENT LAW IS BEING VIOLATED

R. B. Cooley of Lafayette, secretary of the Indiana Stallion Enrollment board, with headquarters at Lafayette, arrived in Rushville today and expects to spend some time in Rush county, he stated, in checking up on the owners of stallions and jacks to determine whether they are complying with the Indiana stallion enrollment law.

The statute provides that all stallions or jacks used or offered for use shall be enrolled (licensed) with the board at Lafayette.

For the most part, Mr. Cooley declared, the owners of jacks and stallions are complying with the law in a very commendable way, but there are two or three cases in this county, he added, that are regarded as violations.

Mr. Cooley stated that he was here to look after these particular cases and that the necessary legal action would be taken if the occasion arises. The law provides a penalty.

Disclose Wheat Campaign is

MILLION BUSHELS ASSURED

Goal in Indiana is 14,000,000 Bushels, Which Means About 23,000 in
The Venture

Evansville, Ind., March 19.—Forty percent of the wheat of southwestern Indiana has been signed up for co-operative marketing through the gigantic state wheat pool being organized by the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, according to reports made by six counties to the district campaign headquarters here today. Farmers who produce more than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat annually in the Evansville section have combined to pool all their wheat for a period of five years.

Active solicitation on the part of volunteer farmers began March 12 when the educational work in behalf of the pool ended and 1,000 farmers opened the campaign by securing signatures to wheat pooling contracts from their neighbors. Every contract is conditioned on securing 40 percent of the state's wheat crop by May 24, 1924. The goal is 14,000,000 which means about 20,000 co-operators in the venture, according to wheat pool leaders.

Dubois county is reported to have signed in excess of 10,000 acres since the drive opened, or about one-third of its average annual production. The township of Posey county where the drive has been conducted pooled more than 1,000 acres on the basis of one day's returns.

Reports from Princeton state that 80 percent of the farmers in Gibson county are signing up. More than 20,000 acres were pooled in the first day's drive, nearly half the county's production. W. A. Wheeler, Princeton, placed in charge of the drive. One township of Vanderburg has pooled 87 percent of its wheat, according to Bertram Edmund, who today compiled the complete report from Center township solicitors. The campaign has also been started in Knight Township, bringing the county total up to 3,000 acres.

The sign-up in Daviess county started, following a meeting of workers in the court house. Eighty farmers volunteered to be responsible for visiting every wheat grower in their communities, and the first two hours of the morning brought in more than 100 contracts. Incomplete returns indicate that more than half of the wheat of Daviess county will be signed by the end of the week. Knox county farm bureau officials together with representatives of the banks and commercial interests are planning a joint drive covering the entire county in behalf of the wheat pool Friday.

CENTRAL FIGURES IN LOUISVILLE "TORTURE" MURDER

Richard H. Heaton, wealthy Louisville broker, who, according to police, spent approximately $100,000 and many months' time in planning the operation. Surgeons say instruments he selected were the best obtainable. And he planned, detectives say, to have burned the body had Gates died.

Mrs. Mary Leahy Wiesen Heaton, widow of the slain broker, who was being trailed by private detectives her husband had hired. Heaton, in his fanciful state of mind, had accused her of intimacy with Gates, long an intimate friend of both.

For three days, William C. Gates was held prisoner in a "torture house" in Louisville, Ky. Bound, hand and foot by strands of rope fastened to the floor by heavy staples, he saw his captor, Richard H. Heaton, wealthy Louisville broker, preparing to perform an operation that would have maimed him for life, if it had not brought his death. With almost superhuman strength he finally succeeded in freeing himself, obtained a revolver and killed the broker.

SEYMOUR MILL
FAVORS POOLING

Willing to Lease Their Six Elevators
to Wheat Growers Association.
It Is Announced

PROPOSAL IS SIGNIFICANT

Seymour, Ind., March 19.—Representatives of the Blish Milling company, Seymour, tentatively offered the elevator facilities, which are now under their control, to the Indiana wheat pool. The company is willing to negotiate for the leasing of their six elevators in Jackson and adjoining counties and the matter has been taken under advisement by the Indiana Farm Bureau, which is sponsoring the drive. After the sign-up campaign is completed and the association becomes ready to operate, the offer of the Blish Milling company will be considered.

Leaders of the wheat pool drive regard the proposition as of special significance—it indicates, they say, the attitude of milling interests throughout the state. Most of them will be willing to deal with the wheat pool on an equitable basis and no inconvenience will be met in arranging elevator facilities.

The elevators in the proposed transaction have storage capacity of more than 100,000 bushels of wheat. Each of the plants it is understood, could easily provide additional storage facilities.

The Blish company is said to be friendly to the wheat pool movement as its success would mean reduced freight costs in the shipment of wheat to its mill in this city. If the pool is successful a steady stream of wheat would be supplied throughout the year to meet the needs of the local company from the elevators in this district.

Naval Reserve No. 1 Was Created at
Height of San Joaquin Valley
While Taft was President

By M. D. TRACY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
(Copyrighted, 1924, by U. P.)

San Francisco, March 19.—Forty-three and one-half square miles—27,840 acres—make up the portion of "Naval Reserve No. 1" which the government leased to E. L. Doherty's Pan-American Oil Company and which, with Teapot Dome, is the center of the present oil investigation in Washington.

It lies in the Elk Hills region of Kern county, beginning about 25 miles west of Bakersfield, oil center of the San Joaquin valley, California. The land itself, semi-arid and parched in summer beneath a sun which sends temperatures up close to 120 degrees at times, has been peopled in the past with homesteaders, dry farmers and small stock raisers, attempting to wrest from the earth a rather meager living.

It is in the foothills of the coast range mountains—the Elk Hills leading up to the loftier peaks of the Santa Barbara's, which, in turn, break abruptly into the sea less than 1100 miles westward.

Beneath this rather forbidding land is believed to stand pools of oil of untold extent. To the south, east and the north lies the Lost Hills, the Coalinga, Taft, Santa Maria, McKittrick and other oil fields which have their stories of making millions overnight and which are not yet exhausted. Across the Santa Barbara and a little to the southward are the Ventura and Summerland fields, where oil is pumped from the opposite side of the coast range mountains.

Geologists have declared Naval Reserve No. 1 probably one of the richest of the California fields.

Whoever may be found to own this oil now, geologists believe that it originally belonged to Adam and Eve.

It was formed through the ages, by the processes through which nature makes its coal, its oil and many of the other riches of the earth. As the mountains rose from the sea, it seeped and trickled from the higher levels into the pools of the foothills and there awaited the coming of man.

Naval Reserve No. 1 was created at the height of the San Joaquin Valley oil boom, while William Howard Taft was President. Under the so-called "Taft Withdrawal Order" which created the reserve it was withdrawn from entry as public land and turned over to the navy to lie there as America's reserve supply of oil for her fighting ships when a time of emergency might arise.

Until leased to the Doherty interests, this field was untouched. Then operations on it were started in what oil men consider only a half-hearted fashion. But three wells have been sunk on the vast lease to date. These are producing approximately 3,000 barrels each per day. Only about a dozen men are employed on the lease, although on the same company's ad-

FEDERAL COURT TO TAKE HAND

Grand Jury Will be in Session Within
Two Weeks to Probe Evidence in Oil Scandal

THREE PERSONS INVOLVED

Investigators Will be Asked to Secure Evidence of Criminal Conspiracy Against Principals

By WILLIAM J. LOSH
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 19.—A federal grand jury will be empaneled here within two weeks to consider evidence of criminal conspiracy in the oil scandal, it was learned today. Indictments are to be sought against three persons as the principals and several others may be involved as alleged accomplices.

Grand jury action is to be shortly after the return from the west of Adlai Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special presidential counsel, who have now put under way civil suits for cancellation of Teapot Dome and California naval oil reserve leases to Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doherty.

Charges of conspiracy to defraud the government and of bribery set for the in the petitions for cancellation, will form the foundation of the government's criminal proceedings.

Pushing of the criminal charges need not necessarily await the results of the civil suits, it was pointed out here today, as the questions involved in the criminal cases will not be affected by the court's decision as to the validity of illegality of the leases themselves. Imminent counsel said today that even if the leases were held technically within the law, criminal prosecution could proceed if it could be shown that a conspiracy was entered into to violate laws in order to get the leases or if bribery was restored to.

Joining property about 200 are at work.

This is generally attributed not so much to a desire to let the lease lie idle, as to a method of meeting market conditions. On the Pan-American Company's adjoining leases numerous wells have been driven down to within a short distance of the oil bearing sand and then closed. When market conditions become more favorable these wells can be quickly brought into production. It is the belief here that the Pan-American company planned to extend this mode of operation to the naval reserve field.

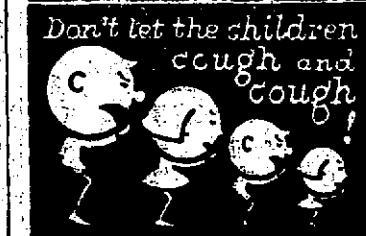

FRACTURES THREE RIBS

William P. White, living near Raleigh, fell in some manner in the barn on his farm, the first of the week and fractured three ribs and may have received other injuries. He has been subject to heart attacks for the last few years, and it is thought that probably that he suffered an attack, causing him to fall. He does not remember how the accident happened. A broken pitch-fork was lying beside him, when he was found.

Witness Says Cloud Told Her Of Once Having Held up a Man

that she was married to Bennett in 1921, and came here to live last year. She said she had known Cloud since last summer, when she met him in South Main street, during a carnival.

Directing her attention to any conversation that she ever had with Cloud concerning his past record, she said that he had told her that he had held up a "fellow along a highway once, but he didn't say where it was, nor how much money he got."

Continuing further, she said that Cloud had told her that he had done different "jobs". On this same occasion, in their conversation, which she said was during the middle of the week prior to the shooting, Cloud told her "that he was going to do one more job and then quit."

She described his appearance and the clothes he wore on the Saturday night of the alleged shooting, and stated that he wore an army overcoat similar to the one that was an exhibit in the court room.

Directing the witnesses attention to the Saturday in question, the state asked the following question:

"On Saturday did you have any conversation with Cloud?"

Answer, "Yes, sir, he asked me for a piece of black cloth to shine his shoes with."

Question, "Did you get it for him?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "What size was the cloth?"

Answer, "I would say about two foot square."

Question, "Then afterwards, did you see anything of this cloth?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "Where?"

Answer, "In the kitchen, where Cloud had a piece of it 12 or 14 inches long, and 3 or 4 inches wide."

Question, "What was he doing with it?"

Answer, "Hemming it."

Question, "What did you say or do when you saw Cloud?"

Answer, "I asked him if he didn't want me to hem it, and he said yes."

Question, "How did you hem it, with a sewing machine or needle?"

Answer, "I hemmed it with a needle."

Question, "On one or two sides?"

Answer, "All the way around, and then I gave it to him."

Question, "Did you ever see it again?"

Answer, "The next time I saw him with it, he was tying strings on it—one on each end."

Continuing in the questioning of the witness, the state learned that Mrs. Inez Levi came into the house that evening, about 7:30 o'clock, during the last process of the tying the strings on the piece of cloth.

Mrs. Bennett said that while Mrs. Levi was there Cloud wrote a letter in the kitchen. The state questioned her as follows:

"Did you see the letter, and what did Cloud do with it?"

Answer, "Had me to back it for him."

Question, "Did you read it?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "What was in the letter?"

The objections of the defense were sustained, because the court held that the letter itself was the best evidence, and the state contended that the letter was not in their possession.

Question, "Who was it addressed to?"

Answer, "I don't remember."

The witness also could not recall to what place the letter was addressed. She said further that the letter was given to Mrs. Levi, for the purpose of mailing.

Mrs. Bennett stated that Cloud left the house that night, which was on Saturday night of the alleged murder, about 8 o'clock with Mrs. Levi, but returned within an hour or an hour and a half.

She stated that he returned and changed shoes. "He asked me if my husband had an old pair, and I told him that he did not, and he asked me if 'Chuck' had a pair, and I told him that I didn't know." She said that he changed shoes, and wore a dress shoe, with smooth heels, and the shoes he discarded had rubber heels.

Question by the state, "After he left did he ever come back anymore that night?"

Answer, "He returned in about an hour and a half."

Question, "Did you see him?"

Answer, "No, he came and opened the front door, and told my husband to 'tell Bill when he comes back, that I have gone.'"

Question, "When did you next see him?"

Answer, "The next morning, Sunday morning around 9 or 9:30 at the house."

Question, "Did you talk to him about the shooting of Mr. Sharp?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "What was said?"

Answer, "When he came into the kitchen, I accused him of the Sharp hold-up. He said that he had not done the shooting, and told me that he had pulled a job up in the north end of town that night.

When questioned further about the conversation, Mrs. Bennett said in answer to a question about the Sharp affair:

"Cloud told me, referring to Sharp, that any— that tried to throw a fellow out of his place when he had him covered, ought to be shot."

In the progress of her testimony, she admitted that she had seen an army gun in the household, and that she had seen Cloud with it, and examining it, but she had never seen him take it out of the house.

Question by the state, "Was that gun missing from the house that week?"

Answer was stricken from the record.

Question, "Where was Chuck Taylor and his wife on that Saturday?"

Answer, "They said they were in Indianapolis."

Shortly after this, the witness was given over to the defense for cross examination, and many preliminary questions were asked concerning her family history.

She was questioned by Mr. Stevens as follows:

Question, "You have been down at the county jail for awhile?"

Answer, "Yes, sir."

Question, "Did you leave Rushville, before or after your husband was put in jail?"

Answer, "Afterwards."

The defense ascertained from the witness that she left in an automobile.

Question, "Who with?"

Answer, "Mr. Steele."

Question, "What is his Christian name?"

Answer, "Mr. John Steele."

Question, "How long have you known Mr. Steele before this time?"

Answer, "About two years."

She stated that she went to Toledo in the machine with Mr. Steele, and this is the city where she was arrested and returned here as a witness. She stated that Mr. Steele was a married man, and said that she had sent for him to come after her. She explained that she had worked for him before, and was working for him in Toledo, and that she had charge of collections.

Question, "What kind of business is he engaged in?"

Answer, "He runs a collecting agency. He's a lawyer in Toledo."

The crowd laughed, when Mr. Stevens said, "That don't mean very much."

Mr. Stevens then went into detail again about the piece of cloth that was mentioned on direct examination. She said that when she saw it for the second time and that it was cut to a piece about 12 inches long and 3 1/2 inches wide, she admitted that it was about the size of a shoe shining cloth.

The witness also stated that the defendant didn't show any signs of anxiety or nervousness when Mrs. Levi entered the room that night, when he was working with the piece of cloth.

The defense questioned her about his assertions that he had done many different jobs of robbery. She said that he didn't cite and particular case, but told her that she'd old read about them in the paper.

The witness stated that Cloud was drinking on the afternoon that he asked her for the piece of cloth. She stated also that she knew that there was an affidavit on file against Cloud for stealing money from Willard Bennett, but denied that she had ever talked to him about it.

When the defense got through with the cross-examination, the state asked another question: "Did Cecil Cloud shine any shoes after he got that rag?"

Answer, "None that I saw."

The next witness was Samuel T. Deweese of Carthage, who stated that he was in jail for a time when Cloud was confined there. He was asked the following questions:

"While in the county jail, did he ever talk to you about getting any weapons?"

The witness stated that he had, and that when Cloud began to talk about getting a gun so that he could get the keys from the sheriff, that he refused to listen to him, and would not talk to him about it. The witness said that Cloud approached him with promises to give him things, if he would get a gun to him, after he got out of jail.

Charley Bennett was the next witness and told about the same kind of a story that his wife had told, and stated that he was down town Sunday morning after the shooting, and heard that Cloud was suspected, and he told him about it, and that Cloud left in a machine with Bill Taylor.

Most of the afternoon witnesses yesterday were principally for the purpose to set the back ground of the trial, and to lay before the jury the events that transpired on the night of December 8, when the fatal shooting took place.

These witnesses included persons who heard the shots and who were among the first to reach the wounded man. In all probability the jury will take an excursion before the end of the case, viewing the grounds, meat shop and location, which is hard to lay before them in words.

Witnesses who testified concerning the shots, had followed the witnesses who had attended the injured man at the hospital when he was operated on, and also those who were present at the autopsy.

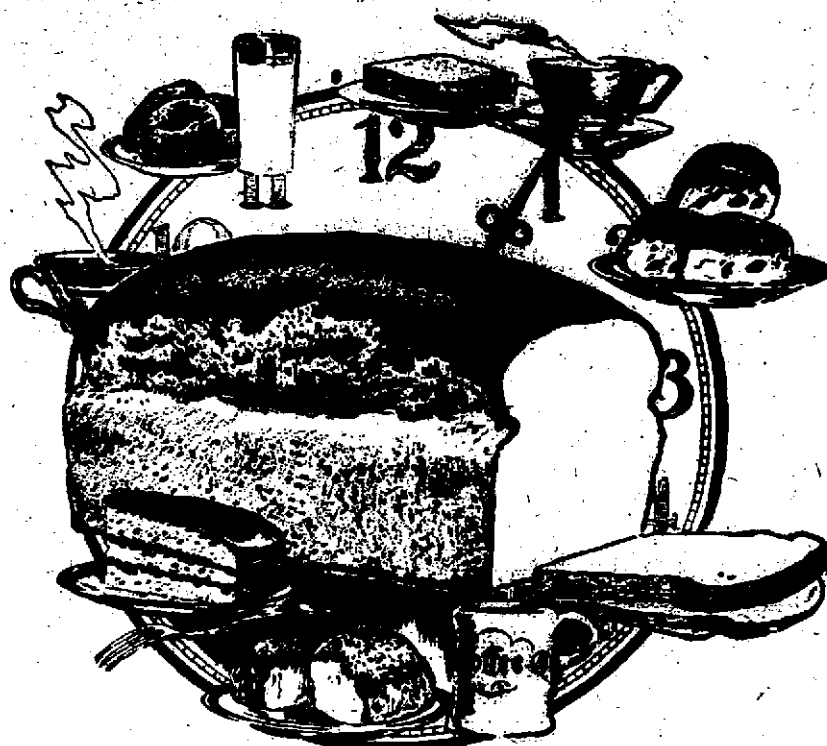

Among the witnesses who testified late yesterday was Frank Farley, Jr., who lives in the vicinity of the meat shop, which is located in West Second street, near the building now occupied by the Hoosier Corn Turner factory.

This witness stated that he was in his house and heard two shots. He heard the third shot when he reached his front porch. He said that he didn't see anyone leave the meat shop in any direction. Farley recalled that when he went off of his front porch and started toward the meat shop, that Sharp called to him, and told him that he had been shot.

Farley said that Sharp asked him to help him to a chair. When Farley had reached the meat shop, he said other people had arrived.

Virgil Clark, who lives at Hannah and Second street, 2 1/2 blocks from the meat shop, was on his bicycle going home, in Second street at 10:20 o'clock that night, he testified.

He said he heard a shot as he was near the meat shop, and that he left his wheel, and ran over to the Sharp meat market. He said that the shot was loud and distinct, and had evidently been fired from the outside.

According to this witness, he was the first person to reach the injured man. He was standing, holding onto the door, according to Clark, and was in need of assistance, and that others arrived almost immediately.

He said that the injured man was taken to the Dr. Sexton hospital, after an effort had been made to call a physician over the telephone. All witnesses testified that the night was very rainy.

Lige Hankins, who conducts a grocery store six or eight feet west of the Sharp meat market, was the next witness for the state. He said that he and his family reside at the rear of his store, and that he had retired when he heard three shots.

He dressed upon hearing the shots, he said. The first shot was dim or muffled, the second shot a little louder and the third shot was still louder, he said. When he reached the meat market, he said that Sharp had been taken away in an automobile.

Mr. Hankins stated that he observed the cash register being open, and that the money was piled around it. He assumed charge of the money, and soon afterwards turned it over to Charley Sharp, a brother of the deceased, who is associated in the business, and who was the next witness on the stand.

Mr. Sharp verified the statement of Mr. Hankins regarding the money, and stated that it amounted to $500 as nearly as he could remember, and that possibly $350 of this was in cash, and the rest in checks.

If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday; and the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones.—Isaiah 58: 10, 11.

Denby's Successor

The nomination of Chief Justice Curtis D. Wilbur of the California Supreme Court, and confirmation by the senate, to be Secretary of the Navy succeeding Edwin Denby who resigned has met with approval on all sides. Wilbur is a native of Boonesville, Iowa having been born there on May 10, 1867. He graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1888, afterward entering the law.

His first entrance into public life was as chief deputy district attorney of Los Angeles, serving in that capacity for four years. He was then elected superior judge, holding that office until 1918 when he was elected associate justice of the California Supreme Court, (serving that body in 1919 for a twelve year term. Last year he was elevated to the chief justiceship.

Despite the fact that he forsook the navy for the law he has always maintained a keen interest in naval affairs more especially the mechanical side and has ever been a keen student of the progress made in battleships during the past decade or so. In California they say that his very industriousness causes others to work hard while engaged upon any task with him.

Mr. Wilbur is a man of deep religious feeling. He does not smoke or drink and for a number of years wrote what might be called a weekly sermon for the Los Angeles papers. He is a man who stands for those institutions on which this country is founded. He believes in church life and the sanctity of the home.

Better Citizens

The war department expects to take care of 40,000 students in the summer military training camps which will open in all army corps areas in July. Young men between the age of 17 and 24 are eligible.

No service the government performs is more valuable than this because it offers the youth of the country a chance for a month's vacation at no expense that at the same time will be beneficial.

The summer training camps are an extension of the Plattsburg idea of 1915, favorite Americanization plan of Theodore Roosevelt. They have grown in popularity each year until all of the requests for admission can not be granted.

The country is only as strong as its young men. Anything that will teach them better living habits and that will make them better citizens is deserving and worthy of support.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The log of one day's Senate oil investigation. Just a typical day in the long-drawn inquiry.

9 a. m. Doors to committee room unlocked. Group of early arrivals, mostly women who doze on sensations, hurry in and get front seats in the public section. Buzz of conversation, reviewing past sessions, begins.

9:30 a. m. Room filling up. Attendees carry in more chairs. The big room, 40 by 50 feet, with high-vaulted ceiling extending through two stories, takes on appearance of society ballroom in use for fashionable lecture on "Personality—How to Get It."

9:45. Dick Collins of the Senate Press Gallery comes in with an armful of yellow "copy" paper which he distributes to press tables. Newspapersmen begin arriving. Ed Smithers, White House telegrapher who worked the Washington end of Ned McLean's private wire of evenings, takes a seat on a big leather couch behind the committee table. With him is "Pat" McKenna, stocky, round-faced doorman at the White House who wired McLean Secretary Sloop was leaving for Palm Beach. Room now crowded. Standing room only.

9:57. Senator Ladd, rotund, acting chairman, enters from private ante-room, seats self at table. Walsh comes briskly in, followed by Dill of Washington. Portentous pause as committee members arrange their papers and the hands of the clock approach 10 a. m.—the hour set for the hearing.

10 o'clock. Senator Walsh announces that inasmuch as the members wish to read over some telegrams not previously studied, the committee will go into executive session. The room must therefore be cleared.

10 to 10:10. Indignant but privately voiced protests among the early arrivals at having to give up their choice seats. Wonder if they will be able to get back in.

10:10 to 10:15. Crowd blocking corridors outside wonders why it wouldn't have been simpler for the three members of committee to have withdrawn to private offices rather than drive 200 spectators from committee room.

10:30. Senator Smoot enters committee room.

10:35. Senator Smoot leaves committee room.

11 o'clock. Corridor standees still standing in corridor. Air thick with smoke and adjectives.

11:20. Doors opened again. Frantic rush inside. Late comers get good seats, early arrivals crowded to rear or find standing room only. Senator Walsh puts on nose glasses. Senator Ladd raps for order. John Major, confidential man for Ned McLean, called to stand.

11:25. Senators Moses, Ken-drick, Bursum and Adams arrive. Walsh begins examination. Necks are craned. Ears are strained.

Major tells about telegrams he sent McLean and telegrams McLean sent him. He identifies code messages. Says he never used Department of Justice code. Had one of his own which he worked up, supplying McLean with duplicate. "How many codes did McLean use?" Walsh asks.

"That makes me laugh," answers Major. "The 'menagerie' code hasn't come out here. That identified individuals as 'The Lion,' 'The Bear,' 'The Walrus,' etc."

"And there was the one about 'Apples,' 'Peaches,' 'Cherries' and 'Prunes,' suggested Walsh.

More questioning. More testimony. The clock shows 12:45.

"That's all," Walsh announces, dismissing the witness.

Major stands up, wipes his round face and bald head with a blue-bordered handkerchief, then grins broadly.

"I'm glad," he declares. "Makes a fellow nervous up here."

"Session adjourned till 10 o'clock tomorrow," says Senator Ladd, speaking for the first time.

Will Death Stop Reds?

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 19—Baseball critics do not agree in their opinion on what effect the death of Pat Moran will have on the Cincinnati Reds and the National League pennant race for 1924.

Some feel that Moran has passed on to his successor a ready-made pennant winner and one that might go almost unguided to the championship on its own merits.

Others maintain that the club's chances for the pennant depend entirely upon the pitching staff and without the genius of Moran, the Reds will have only an ordinary staff.

While other points may be in doubt, however, it is certain that if the loss of Moran does not hurt the Reds, it certainly does not hurt the New York Giants. The Reds may be no weaker without their old manager, but they certainly are not stronger without him at the wheel.

Pat Moran's success was due to individual brilliance, to unusual skill in handling pitchers and to a winning personality and a genius for leadership. Pat Moran won on Pat Moran, and not on any system. He left nothing at Cincinnati by which his successor could say: "You do just as Pat had you do."

If John McGraw should stay away from New York Giants, his successor would find an established system of McGraw baseball. He could tell the players to do as McGraw always had them do and they could carry on. That old "master mind" stuff of McGraw's has been shown to have been the bunk. The players on McGraw teams do follow his instructions closely, but they do not take the order from him on every ball.

If a system could be applied to the playing of baseball and the development of baseball teams like it is applied to football, the loss of a manager would not be such a severe blow.

Harvard is said to have the greatest football system in the country. When Percy Houghton, its founder, stepped out, Bob Fisher stepped in and followed the same system with just the same success.

But it can't be done in baseball because the situation that requires different kinds of plays are vastly more numerous in baseball than they are in football. The baseball manager cannot hand his players a book of plays when he takes them to the training camp and tell them to get busy and learn the signals and run off the plays.

The baseball manager can't look at a book himself or hand his captain a book that would tell him when to take a pitcher out of the box, when he was going to blow and when he was settled, when to hit it out and when to lay it down and a hundred other whens.

TRAINING CAMP TABS

Catalina Islands—The Chicago Cubs are preparing to leave here for Los Angeles tomorrow where two games will be played with the Vernon and Los Angeles teams.

Brandtown, Fla.—Failure of Frank Chance, manager of the White Sox to appear had started discussion as to whether the peerless leader will be in harness this year. Chance is ill. Johnny Evers has been in charge of the Sox and will continue in that capacity until Chance relieves him.

Clearwater—Brooklyn may pass on one of the regular catchers to the St. Louis Cardinals for Milton Stock if the Cards do not get young Gibson from the Boston Braves, it was reported at the Robins training camp today.

Augusta, Ga.—The Detroit Tigers adjourned after a routine practice in the morning and then went to a barbecue put on for them by a local club.

Mobile, Ala.—Catcher Pat Collins, Sil Symon and Ed Catting are on the Browns hospital list. Sister's men play their second exhibition game today with the Mobile Bears.

Brandtown, Fla.—Ernie Vick, catcher with Houston last year, will be a member of the Cardinals this year, Branch Rickey announced. Harry McCurdy, Clyde Barfoot and Johnny Kane, all of the Cardinals, will play with Houston this year. The Giants play the Cards today.

Walther, the president of the club, being the hostess. Pretty bouquets of cut flowers adorned the room where the entertainment was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Ballard Long of Indianapolis, a reader. Her readings were Old Plantation Folk lore, in southern dialect, and being a southerner herself, made her program much more interesting. Between the readings southern melodies were played on the piano by Mrs. Ralph Elwell. Mrs. Hugh Dickey and Miss Miriam Fry. Preceding the program Mrs. Curtis Scholl sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and her selection was followed by the introduction of the entertainer by Mrs. W. S. Saxon.

Following the program the guests, including members of the Clio club of Connersville, and others from Rushville, Glenwood, Bentonville, Raleigh and Falmouth, were invited into the dining room where dainty refreshments were served. The small luncheon tables were adorned with pretty bouquets of pink carnations.

The cleaning of down town streets could be done away with, and the job now taken care of by John Singer, dispensed with, and the regular street force placed in charge of the sweeping, which could be done twice a week, or late at night. No action was taken on the suggestion. The matter of discontinuing the payment of $5 a month to William Denny, merchant police, for turning off pedestal lights was taken up, and carried over. Some of the councilmen maintain that the expense should be saved by making the regular police officers turn off the lights.

ARMY PLANES ON 3RD LEG OF THEIR TRIP

Round the World Fliers Hope to Reach Sand Point Tonight—One in Slight Accident

FORCED TO MAKE LANDING

Eugene, Oregon, March 19—The three "round-the-world" air cruisers headed by Major Frederick L. Martin, hopped off here at 10:36 a. m. today for Vancouver barracks, Washington. They made the start in the face of a heavy rain which delayed their get-away nearly two hours.

Eugene, Ore., Mar. 19—Three planes of the army's round the world flight were here today ready to take off for Sand Point, near Seattle on the third leg of their 30,000 mile journey.

Major Frederick L. Martin, commander, and Lieut. Lowell Smith reached Eugene at shortly before 4 p. m., yesterday, completing a successful flight from Sacramento.

The third flier, Lieut. Leigh Wade, started from Mather field, Sacramento with Martin and Smith but was forced to land at Cottonwood, Calif., and did not reach Eugene until 5:23 p. m.

Wade said a pet-cock on the radiator of his machine had been left open, necessitating the landing. He broke a wing in a tail skid, causing additional delay.

Martin made the flight from Sacramento in six hours and seven minutes, buffeted by heavy head winds. The fliers may make a brief stop at Vancouver, Washington, today but hope to reach Sand Point before nightfall if weather is favorable.

Health, vitality and freedom from pain and disease alone can prevent the signs of age from fastening themselves upon women. All over this country women are awakening to the fact that the ills, aches and pains of women may be relieved by Lydia E. SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 3.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny, and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it."

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble."

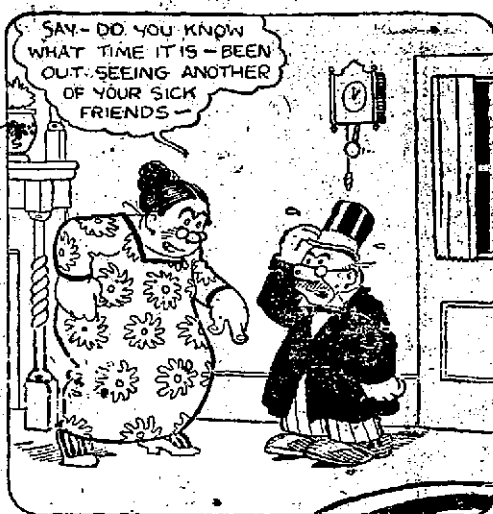

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs. Be sure to get the genuine, Theodor's.

ARE YOU RUPTURED?

We wish to announce the visit of the Collings Truss Expert at the Scanlan Hotel, Rushville, Ind., Thursday, March 20, from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 9 in the evening.

Back View of New Invention for Rupture

We want to demonstrate to you absolutely without a penny in advance, our new invention for holding difficult or aggravated cases of rupture whether of Inguinal or Umbilical character. If you are ruptured you should be interested in our ability to fit you with a truss that will do its work properly and give you the greatest ease and comfort possible.

—SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL—

This new Collings Truss is based on the most scientific principles for holding a rupture. It is not only representative of mechanical perfection but contains that super-power for holding a rupture without discomfort, and that makes for a complete recovery where this result is possible.

—CONTAINS NO SPRINGS—

There are no springs or metal parts used in this new truss other than the small necessary buckles; instead it is made of high-grade elastic web with soft, pliable cloth back made wider so to distribute the pressure over a broader surface. Prevents all cutting and chafing, and gives the necessary uplift to the pads.

—IT HOLDS THE RUPTURE—

It is easily, quickly and permanently adjusted so an even and uniform pressure can be constantly maintained at any desired tension. The patented sectional pads are adaptable and will fit any kind of rupture. As the cure progresses the pressure can be lessened without a change of pads.

—IT STAYS PUT—

When placed in position, the truss stays put and does not skid or slide. Regardless of the position of the wearer's body: stooping, jumping or standing erect, the truss remains firm and set, and adjusts itself as the occasion demands.

COMFORTABLE DAY OR NIGHT

To do its maximum amount of good, a truss should be worn continuously day and night. Upon retiring many people remove their truss, with the result that the weakened muscular tissues relax and oftentimes allow the rupture to assume the form of the original protrusion. This new truss can be worn at all times.

FREE DEMONSTRATIONS FOR ONE DAY ONLY THURSDAY MARCH 20

Every ruptured person should visit our truss-expert and learn what genuine truss-comfort means. No charge for demonstration or information.

Balloon Tire Confusion

These illustrations show very clearly the difference between standard size and balloon tires. The smaller is the air chamber of a 33x5 standard size tire inflated with 60 pounds of air. The larger is the air chamber of a 34x7 balloon tire for the same car, 91 per cent larger than the standard tire shown above, and intended to be used at 30 pounds of air.

"Souls For Sale," Castle

Rupert Hughes and the Goldwyn casting department were not consciously trying to write a Who's Who in Screenland when they selected the players for Mr. Hughes' latest picture, "Souls for Sale," which will be the attraction at the Castle theatre for 3 days, beginning Thursday, but they came very near doing it. The cast sheet of this story of the film colony in Hollywood might easily be mistaken for a directory of the colony.

The players include Eleanor Broadman, who has the leading role, Mae Busch, Bara LaMar, Richard Dix, Frank Mayo, Lew Cody, Arthur Hoyt, David Imboden, Roy Atwell, William Orlamond, Forrest Robinson, Edith Yorke, William Hines, George Morgan, Dale Fuller, Snitz Edwards, Auld Thomas, Leo Willis, Yale Boss, Walter Perry, Sam Daman, R. H. Johnson, Jack Richardson, Ruth Hughes, Aileen Pringle, Eve Southern, May Milloy Sylvia Ashton, Fred Kelsey, L. J. O'Connor, Jed Prouty, Charlie Murphy, Margaret Bourne.

Gloria Swanson Picture

Gloria Swanson in "The Humming Bird,"—a tuneful title—a colorful story.

It's a Sidney Oleott production for Paramount which opened at the Princess theatre tonight. Miss Swanson is the star, with Edward Burns as leading man and Jacques L'Amour, Mario Majeroni, William Ricciardi and others in support.

The story is an adaptation of the stage play by Maude Fulton. The star has the role of Toimette, a girl of the Paris underworld, leader of the Apaches, whose undaunted courage makes her a heroic figure during the dark days of the World War, when Paris was threatened with invasion. She falls in love with Randall Carey, representative of an American newspaper, this furnishing the motivation for the story.

Toimette in her dual role of the "Humming Bird" is a hunted creature. Every crime committed in the Montmartre section is credited to "him," for, to all but her intimates the "Humming Bird" is an extremely clever boy. She is too much for the authorities, though. The girl does great work in enlisting her associates into the service of France for which she receives the pardon of France for her crimes and is decorated with the Croix de Guerre, won by an associate, unfortunate on the field of battle.

Romantic Adventures

"When Odds Are Even," the William Russell production that is showing at the Mystic theatre today, is a romantic adventure drama that takes in half the world before the final fade-out. The action leaps from the Golden Gate to the South Sea Islands where William Russell Dorothy DeVore, Frank Beal, Lloyd Whitlock, and others equally well-known in motion pictures, have prominent roles in this production.

Director James Flood has recourse to the photographic art that has placed him among the foremost of dramatic supervisors. His work is well displayed in its most excellent form in this production.

President?

Here is Patrick Edward Crowley, vice president of the New York Central Lines, who may become the president. A. H. Smith, former president, was accidentally killed when he fell from a horse a few days ago, while riding in Central Park, New York City.
